

Tuesday 1 day to go

P.S. It is now the next day. All the guys in our Company had to take the sub test so I got out for about an hour. To pass the test you can't have any nerves at all + it is hard. I tried my best to flunk it but I passed.
I couldn't fake on my eyes because they already knew what my vision was. I hope I don't get it though. This doesn't mean we will but they are taking 30 men for subs out of our company + I have a 50-50 chance.
I just learned today that I am 49th in our company standings. There are 122 men in the company.
I think I will get S 1/2 but getting put in the brig might have some effect on it. I hope not. That's all for today. I get out tomorrow at 12:00 (noon)
